

Germany To Give U-Boat Commanders Different Sub-Warfare Orders

Berlin, May 3.—(Wireless to Associated Press Via Sayville) The draft of the German reply has been finished. The reply is subject to minor alterations which may result from interchanges of views between Berlin and general headquarters.

The attitude of Germany will be stated in clear and precise terms. The note will leave no room for doubt concerning the exact position assumed by Germany, which will communicate the definite nature of instructions that will be given to submarine commanders and other data on which Washington itself can judge the situation.

The Associated Press is permitted to make these statements although the censorship on dispatches tending to reveal the tenor of the German reply is still effective. The date of delivery of the answer has not been fixed.

Washington, D. C., May 3.—The announcement from Berlin that new and definite instructions are to be given to German submarine commanders is the first positive indication of how Germany will attempt to meet President Wilson's final demand that she declare and effect an abandonment of the present methods of submarine warfare. Whether the new instructions will meet the terms of the last American note and thus prevent a break in diplomatic relations can only be determined by a close and careful examination.

President Wilson is represented by those closest about him as unshaken in his determination that the issue is not negotiable; that a settlement cannot be delayed by discussion of side issues such as the British blockade and regulatory measures and that the controversy between the countries can proceed further in diplomacy only if Germany effectually stops destruction of ships without warning and takes measures to bring her submarine operations otherwise within the confines of international law with a declaration that such orders have been given and evidence that they will be carried out.

There is no relaxing of the determination that the issue cannot be further delayed and complicated by related issues which take the discussion afield. Until this morning, Germany's delay in making reply and the absence of any definite report from Ambassador Gerard have led American officials to fear that the Berlin foreign office was planning to send an answer which the United States could not consider other than inconclusive, therefore unsatisfactory. The news that new instructions to submarine commanders will be announced, served to encourage hope of a favorable outcome of the long dispute, but all discussion is being reserved until the newest German communication can be analyzed and thoroughly considered.

London, May 3.—"Serious trouble is reported to have occurred in Berlin and elsewhere in Germany on May Day," says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Vast crowds, composed for the most part of women of the laboring classes, clamored for peace. The crowds were dispersed by the police and many persons were arrested.

London, May 3.—Found guilty by a court martial, four leaders of the revolt in Ireland, including Patrick H. Pearse, whose title was "Provisional President", and James Connolly, in command of the rebel troops, were executed today by a firing squad. They were among the seven signers of the insurgent proclamation issued in Dublin at the outbreak of the rebellion. Three others were sentenced to three years imprisonment. Another aftermath of the revolt came today with the resignation of Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, who has been severely criticized in the British press for his handling of the Irish situation previous to the outbreak.

Mr. Birrell indicated his resignation from the cabinet by taking the corner seat behind the treasury bench when he entered the house of commons this afternoon. The rounding up of prisoners charged with being implicated in the rebellion, is being vigorously continued and according to a Dublin despatch, several thousand prisoners have been taken by the military.

Of the other signatories of the Republican proclamation found guilty and shot, were Thomas J. Clark and Thomas MacDonagh.

100,000 ARE IDLE AS RESULT OF GARMENT WORKERS STRIKE

New York, May 3.—The number of garment workers out of work was brought up to 65,000 today, with the strike of 35,000 in sympathy with those who involuntarily became idle when their employers declared a lock-out last week. Officers of the union estimated that 100,000 persons in all are affected. The shops involved represent a large part of the women's clothing industry of the country.

The principal demand of the strikers is for a continuance of the provision in the 1910 protocol under which preference was promised in favor of union members.

TROOPS ARRIVE FOR STRIKE ZONE

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 3.—The governor's troops arrived on a special train in East Pittsburgh this morning and quickly detached for duty in the Turtle Creek and Monongahela Valleys where strike riots occurred yesterday. The troops commanded by Captain George C. Jack, of Harrisburg, was the first of the national guard commands ordered last night by Governor Brumbaugh to the disturbed district. One company of troops was held in its armory here, and will march to Braddock later in the day. Another company experienced much difficulty in securing mounts and was not expected to reach East Pittsburgh before night fall. Meantime the Eighteenth Infantry had been mobilized at its armory here, and the Tenth Infantry was assembling at Greensburg, fifty miles from the strike zone.

Large forces of coal and iron company police were still on guard in the plants of the United States Steel Corporation in the Monongahela Valley, but experienced no trouble. Interest in the strike situation shifted during the morning to McKees Rocks.

GRADUAL RETIREMENT OF U. S. TROOPS WAS ARRANGED, IS CLAIMED

where large forces of the Pressed Steel Car Company's men struck yesterday. Three hundred strikers returned to work at 7 o'clock, but by ten o'clock they had induced the workmen in six departments of the plant to walk out. The shops were immediately closed and it was said the entire plant with its ten thousand workmen, would be closed.

This is the first time in four years that the Pennsylvania National Guard has been called out for strike duty. In 1912 troops were sent into the anthracite coal regions, but since that time the state constabulary has been able to preserve order. The entire force has been on duty at McKees Rocks, owing to a strike of steel car men for several months and could not be called away from that city.

Quiet prevailed throughout the night in Braddock. Fearing another outbreak, citizens, sworn as deputy sheriffs, patrolled the streets, while more than 300 guards and deputies armed with riot guns guarded the Edgar Thomson Works of the Carnegie Steel Company, where yesterday's rioting occurred.

Other arrests were expected in connection with the commitments issued by Samuel C. Jamison as a result of the riot. Several leaders, among whom were Fred Mer-

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Portsmouth people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mr. Swearingin endorsed Doan's over eight years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

John H. Swearingin, painter, 1131 Eighteenth St., Portsmouth, says: "I was injured by having a heavy ladder fall on me. It wrenched my back and from that time on I was troubled to such an extent that often my work was neglected. I was in almost constant pain. My bladder became affected and I was compelled to get up four or five times at night to pass the kidney secretions. They were highly colored and contained sediment. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and was completely cured." (Statement given February 1, 1908.)

On October 22, 1914, Mr. Swearingin said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has been a lasting one."

The Car Spectacular Performance Jeffery Six

THE great ideal of the Jeffery engineers—who introduced the high-speed, long-stroke, high-efficiency motor to America—has always been to give maximum power at the speeds which are used most in actual service.

The Jeffery Six is their realized ideal of power. It gives you the power you need on crowded streets in heavy traffic—it gives you the power you want on rough country roads, and in a thousand unforeseen conditions. From 3 miles an hour or less on high—up to 60 miles, or more—she is smooth, silent, sure.

Step on the accelerator and you'll have the power sensation you never even thought of before. She starts like a sprinter at the crack of the gun. And silent! At forty miles an hour she sings along as sweetly as if she were just getting ready to make twenty. Then open the throttle and you'll learn for the first time what the word MOVE really means.

The price is $1450—and for every dollar of it you get more power at the speed you use—more riding-comfort and driving-comfort—than you ever thought possible.

And act NOW. This is the car that sells so rapidly that the Thomas B. Jeffery Company was long ago compelled to double its planned output of it. We have a number on hand—but we can't increase our allotment because the factory cannot increase its output.

THE UPWARD FLIGHT

Monday's resume of the iron and steel market told the new common story of continuous and increasing activity. Quite a number of new plants have been put in operation and others are under construction. Orders are coming in rapidly, even to the uncompleted ones, but such is the volume offered that every mill is busy and most of them have enough work on hand to carry them over this year and even far into next. Since the first of the year contracts have been made for the manufacture of 2,462,200 tons of rails, 1,043,800 tons being written in April alone, which is more than four and a half times greater than the contracts for the four months of last year, but enormous as this total is it would be greater were the mills capacitated to make earlier deliveries than can now be specified for, and were not constantly raising prices prohibitive in instances. Probably, much of the buoyancy in prices is owing to the fact that "war orders" are still heavy, it being current that foreign countries are negotiating for the placing of specifications for 300,000 tons of shell steel. Yet, big as such business would be, it is quite insignificant when set by the side of general and domestic orders. A most notable and further encouraging feature of the situation is that material demanded show ship building is being immensely quickened. During the month of April 30,000 tons to go into seven new vessels were called for and the estimate is that the new ship-building yards, soon to be in operation on the Delaware river, will call for 60,000 tons for construction purposes.

THROBBING THOUGHTS ON THRIFT

As this is a thrift year we may be pardoned for offering our mite to the wise sayings this subject will inspire during 1916. The only thing that reconciles many people to the flight of time is pay day. The first million is hard to get; after that everything is easy. Instead of buying two-for-a-quarter cigars, buy a box of twenty-five for $3.10. You have no idea how large a saving you will enjoy in a year. Buy ten dollars' worth of things you do not really need, in order to get twenty-cents' worth of "trading stamps." If Mrs. Neighbor Smith buys a $200 "parlor suit" for a $25 flat, be sure that you buy one for $300 just to show that your husband earns more than hers. Do not fail to buy the latest style dresses as soon as they are "out." You may wear them "around the house" after they become passe.

Every woman should have at least three pairs of white kid shoes—high, medium and low—whether she has a pair of black ones or a pair of rubbers or not.

After you have started a savings' bank account and made two or three deposits, be sure to withdraw but a dollar. Repeat this half-a-dozen times a year. By this system quite an item in interest will accrue.

As soon as you get your salary, buy some luxury you have coveted—or it may be gone. Board or rent may be paid any time. The U. S. per capita money in circulation is $176.70. If you have not that in your pocket, don't feel into your neighbor's to see if he has your share.

"Let tomorrow take care of itself," is a fine maxim—ask any one in the poor house.

"Radio is so sweetly swell dresser. She don't have to pay no board to her old woman an' makes every other girl look like 'tirty cents."—From Wise Saws.

EVER COMING AND GOING

One frequently hears that it isn't as easy to make money as it used to be. By this is meant, that the opportunity to acquire fortune is not as frequently presented as was once the case. Nothing could be further from the actual fact. There is more money in the world than there ever was and the more there is of a thing the comparatively easier it becomes to accumulate it. Then opportunity is not a thing of yesterday. It is ever coming and going and is as much of the morrow as of today. If one thinks it has vanished look at the case of those three young men in New York, who didn't wait for opportunity to seek them out, but who with bold heart and open hands went out to find and welcome her. Two years ago they started on their hunt by organizing an exporting company with a thousand dollars capital. In their diligent search they picked her up in the shape of a modest "war order." That gave them a "toehold" and they didn't let go, but clung on and grasped for more. Now they are doing business at a rate that figures up to near fifty millions annually. Certainly, opportunity is ever broadening and realizing that the war can not continue indefinitely they are guarding against the wreck of collapse by branching out into the general commercial field and finding there too that opportunity ever waits for those who diligently and intelligently seek her and never turn away from her smiles.

It isn't because the pessimist is more numerous than the optimists that 99 percent of the communications that come to a newspaper are "a knock" against something. It is the law of exception, we complain of that which is unusual distressful and sing most of that which is agreeable, because the displeasing is not so common as the pleasing.

Of course, any old place can have Sunday, but where is there another that can have such weather as calmed and soothed all about the Peerless, last Sunday?

IT'S A LONG STEP—CAN WE MAKE IT OURSELVES?

Nothing is so bad it can not be worse. The French are making the motorcycle more deadly still. The French are using the machine as a perambulating battery, mounting a gun on it that will fire one thousand shots a minute. As the gun has a range of two miles and that the cycle can be driven fifty miles an hour its possibilities for slaughter are unreckonable.

Strike details are crowding the war news off the front page these days. Well, we have heard the insistence that that more strikes, more good times prevailing, but just the same we can't help feeling sort of a squeamish when there is little else to read about.

"Bed-Time Tales" ought to become the most valuable of all the special features of The Times. They are going to be both interesting and informing and "daddy" will furnish pleasure and profit to both by reading them each evening.

A superintendent of a Wisconsin school wants the board of education to install gun racks, wherein the children can stick their "shaw" when they come into classes. And yet there are more foolish innovations proposed for the schools than that.

The Bluefield Telegraph seissors and prints some severe diatribes against the primary system, but cautiously adds they are not necessarily its own opinion. Waiting to see which way the cat is going to jump eh?

Worked up by Irish orators a mass meeting of pro-Germans, at Indianapolis, Sunday was violent and indiscriminate in denunciatory resolutions of Wilson and Roosevelt. It must be novel to the latter to find himself coupled with such excellent company.

Mm, let 'em quake and tremble in their boots and their booties too, for that matter. Our noble and valiant prosecuting attorney announces he is going to have the grand jury look after the highway searchers.

Drive out in the country, these days, and you can see hundreds of fruit trees in beautiful bloom. There would be even more in them if it were that they were all properly attended to, so as to guarantee sound, luscious fruit later on.

Mister DuPont, the Delaware powder king, who parts his name in the middle, is a candidate for president. No suspicion, however, seems to lurk about that he will blow anything up, rather is it opined his candidacy will be a complete fizzle.

It looks as though that fight before Verdun is a sort of tit for tat business. In the beginning the Germans were quite busy capturing so many miles of trenches and now the French are as industriously taking them back. We have no thought of posing as a military expert, but our guess is the victor is going to be the side that can hold out the longest.

You can never tell what is going to happen. The Cincinnati Reds stopped their slide down the toboggan long enough, Monday, to whitewash the Pittsburghers.

Finest rain in the world, great things for planting and crops, to say nothing of laying the dust on roads and streets.

Mr. Carranza has done quite the clever thing in banishing from the country one of his cabinet ministers, who allegedly in the pay of the German government, was stirring up anti-American feeling in Mexico.

Having come in on invitation Uncle Sam does not now propose to get out of Mexico until he gets good and ready.

More About The Alligator Eggs

For some minutes after Mrs. Gater came up to the pile of rubbish where her eggs were buried, Miss Chameleon watched her from behind a leaf under which she had hidden. But Mrs. Gater was pretty big and clumsy in her movements and Miss Chameleon was rather tiny, so she soon decided that she could see quite enough from her favorite tree.

"No use in my staying where I might be trampled on," she sensibly thought. "I'll run up my tree. There I can see as much as he can and be safe too. Alligators don't climb trees—I am sure of that, even if I don't know anything about their eggs."

So up the tree she climbed; she settled herself comfortably and looked around—just in time to see Mrs. Gater leaving the pile and waddling clumsily off to the creek. "Now that's a funny thing for her to do!" exclaimed Miss Chameleon in disgust; "and just when I am nicely settled to watch her, too! I thought mothers always stayed by their eggs. How am I ever to learn about her if she goes off that way before I can watch her?"

But all Miss Chameleon's disappointment didn't bother Mrs. Gater. She waddled off to the creek and slipped down into the water "plash" with a satisfied air of having done her full duty.

As soon as she was out of sight, Miss Chameleon remembered her hunger. "To be sure I was going to get me some ants from that pile," she said, "and now I'll be afraid to go into the bottom of it, for there's no telling when Mrs. Gater may come back. I fancy I'd better find me some ants on a tree. That next one there seems to have some on its trunk."

She climbed down from the tree she was on and up the other. "Sure enough! There were ants aplenty to be found. Her long, worm-like tongue was kept busy darting in and out, and always it brought back a fine morsel for Miss Chameleon to swallow."

So, busy was she eating that she didn't realize how high up the tree

After long, worm-like tongue was kept busy during in and out

way of the bark and waited for the owl to come out.

Late in the afternoon, Wise Mr. Owl stuck his head out from the hole in the tree and called, "Who? Who-o? Who-o-o?"

Of course Miss Chameleon thought he meant her, so she replied, "It's Miss Chameleon come to see you, Wise Mr. Owl. And will you please tell me why Mrs. Gater lays her eggs in a rubbish pile?"

Wise Mr. Owl blinked in the waning sunlight and eyed Miss Chameleon seriously. Then he replied, "Because she knows that the rubbish will decay when it lays in the sun, and the decaying will make heat. And the heat will hatch her eggs. Eggs laid in rubbish hatch quicker than those buried in sand. Wise Mrs. Gater knows that."

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O.O. MEINTYRE.

New York, May 3.—Doughnuts at $1 each aroused the suspicion of a detective in the Tenderloin (this week, and noticing that certain men and women of the underworld were among the patrons, he sought to purchase a few of the expensive sinkers himself.

They were being sold, he learned, by Wing Huay, a Chinese sporting character, who is known as "Dude" because of his fondness for flashy clothes. The sleuth went to Huay's apartment when the Celestial was sound asleep.

He awakened him, but was not prepared for the shock that followed. Reaching under his pillow, the Chinaman threw a new kind of a bomb. It was what is known as a "stink bomb" and flooded the room with a most stifling stench.

While the detective was trying to raise a window for fresh air, the stink bomb leaped out of a third story window and was found with his right leg broken. Several of the doughnuts were taken to police headquarters and were found to contain particles of opium, so the mystery of the high price of doughnuts was immediately cleared up.

Robert Warwick, the handsome actor, conceived the idea last week that he would like to present some of G. Bernard Shaw's plays on the screen. He called the author to know his price for the exclusive rights. He received a reply that still has him wondering. It read: "My plays are known all over the world. They have life; they are life and they are played wherever the human tongue can frame words."

Mr. Warwick admitted after reading the reply, that nothing could be fairer than that.

Kid McCoy has become a dabbler in metaphysics. From the even man stuff to the metaphysical soup a fancy, but the Mr. Norman Selby, in real life says he has never been happy until he took up the study of right thinking and its influence on human affairs.

As an unfortunate contrast to McCoy, who is quite prosperous indeed, there stands in front of a Times Square cafe each day a former hero of many rollicking ring battles. And fat, drenched of all things, is his.

Nobody seems to know what he is doing. He just stands around in an attitude of complete dejection as if a tragedy was lurking nearby. He did not save, apparently having no understanding of the uncertainty of the game.

McCoy, on the other hand, saved. He acquired a thirst—but not for booze—for knowledge. He became a regular caller every day at the public library, where he spent an hour or so. He studies the old philosophies for a hobby and out of this study he says he has acquired an entirely new view point of life—and with it great happiness and ease.

About the brightest girls in New York—real diplomats in fact—are to be found behind cigar counters of the Gotham hotel lobbies. It is their job to listen all day long to the inane chatter of the wise city chaps who try to force their attentions upon them. The girls must keep their temper.

One of these metropolitan "slickers" purchased a cigar in the Biltmore the other afternoon, and to start conversation, inquired if the cigar was good and strong. "Yes, indeed," was the snappy retort, "it is so strong it won't break in your pocket."

These girls must listen all day to wheezes that were popular when John Dewey was pulling a stroke over for G. Washington crossing the Delaware. They also have to dodge invitations for dinner many times a day, and they have to do it without offending the customer.

On the other hand, they have to furnish conversation to strangers in town who are not trying to flirt, but are lonely and want someone to talk to.

Just A Tip

(With Apologies to Longfellow.)
Speak! Speak, O maid so faint,
Who with thy yellow hair,
Dressed in a jaunty air,
Why dost thou haunt me?

And with thy skirts so neat,
Two feet above thy feet
Now as you walk the street,
Why dost thou taunt me?

You, with your laughter gay,
And with your winsome way,
Let us look up today,
So we were wedded.

Then she removed her hips,
Wiped paint from off her lips,
But this the climax tips,
She was bald-headed.

Now in my home so bright,
I walk the floor at night,
The kid squalls with all his might,
Until the morning.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, health, money, education, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 33.

Dear Miss Wise—Is there any place in the city I could have an X-Ray applied free, as I am not able to pay for same. SICK MOTHER.

Consult City Physician W. D. Shafer in the First National Bank Building. An X-Ray machine will not cure any disease. It is simply used to locate broken bones and ailments that cannot be reached otherwise. It is a radiant energy, capable of penetrating matter with varying degrees of facility, yet which apparently cannot be refracted. It will affect sensitive plates and produce shadow photographs of objects invisible to the naked eye. The apparatus is a high vacuum tube of glass, through which an electric current is passed. Sometimes called Roentgen rays, from the discoverer, Dr. William Roentgen, of Germany. It may be that the physician can locate your trouble without an X-Ray examination.

Franklin Furnace—Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 14. Do you think I am old enough to exchange post-cards with the boys? Do you think white stockings and black tango shoes would look good with a pink silk dress. How is my writing and spelling?

LONELY GIRL.
People don't usually send post-cards unless they are away on a visit. If any of your boy friends have remembered you in this way, the next time you come to Portsmouth you might send them cards. White, black or pink stockings would go all right with your pink dress. Your writing and spelling are both good.

Miss Dolly Wise—I am a girl 10 and going with a nice young man. He hasn't any bad habits at all, but horse-trading. Do you think that is any harm? We have never had any quarrels. Do you think he would make me a nice husband?

WANT TO KNOW.
He might make you a "nice" husband all right, but could he make a comfortable living? And do you want a man who is continually roaming over the country, buying and selling horses? If you do, then marry him. If not, see that he gets into some other kind of business before you decide to take him for better or worse.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please tell me what is the price of feathers a pound, and where I might sell some.

GOODSIE.
A No. 1 feathers are retailing at 85 cents per pound. Others sell at from 65 cents up to 85 cents. If you can't sell them at the local stores, I'm sure you could sell them in a jiffy if you would insert a For Sale ad in the Times. Lots of newly-weds, or people contemplating marriage would be glad to get nice new feathers for pillows and cushions.

Dear Miss Wise—Is it within the law to send hides by mail or parcel post, such as ground mole hides? If so, how much postage is required for a pound? And must such packages be marked what it contains? Thanking you. WANT TO KNOW.

You can send any kind of hides through the mail, with the exception of skunk hides. The rate varies according to the distance. The rate within a radius of 100 miles is 5 cents the first pound and one cent for each additional pound. You need not mark what's in the package. All that's necessary is to put your name and address on the outside of the package.

Dear Dolly Wise—We are two girls sixteen years old. We go with two nice boys in Portsmouth, who seems to be very nice, but my friend fell out the other day. I love him dearly. What can I do to wind back his love. My mother don't care for me having a friend to come to see me but my grandmother does. What shall I do. Also how is my writing and spelling.

ECOTOVILLE GIRLS.
What did your friend fall out of, a buggy or auto? Don't think it will do any good to "wind" him up if he doesn't care for you. Better obey your grandmother, since your mother does not seem to care what you do. Your writing is good, but you can't spell worth a cent.

Mrs. Dolly—I am at the age of 22 and love sick, and I have been going with a young lady for 5 years and I would like to know whether it would be best for me to marry her or not. She is a fine young lady and we get along so well, never quarrel any, and I would like for you to tell me if you think it is best for me and her to get married. She has brown eyes and dark hair, 5 ft. in height.

A READER.
If you are able to support a wife and she is willing to marry you, go to it. Here's wishing you all the happiness in the world.

Dr. Walter A. Braunlin, a promising young physician, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Braunlin, and Miss Charlotte Emma Havener, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Havener, of South Webster, were married last evening, at half-after eight o'clock, at their own cozy home, 1901 Ninth street. Rev. S. Lindemeyer, pastor of the German Evangelical church, officiated, with the impressive ring ceremony. There were no attendants. The sweet young bride was most attractive in her handsome gown of ivory tulle, with a shower of bride roses and smiles. The ceremony was followed by a small reception, including the two immediate families. Dainty refreshments were served. The bride is an attractive young woman, who has a large circle of friends in this city. She has been employed for the past three and a half years in the Commercial Building and Loan office, where she was held in the highest esteem, and Dr. Braunlin is one of our best known young physicians. The Times joins their happy friends in wishing them much happiness and prosperity.

The Gibbons Social Club meets this evening in St. Mary's hall. The Journey Trio will render the music.

Three candidates, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roth and Mrs. Laura Moorehead, were initiated at the weekly session of the Daughters of Rebekah Tuesday evening. Several applications were favorably balloted upon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the United Brethren church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles May, on Seeto Trail. All ladies of the church are invited.

Miss Mary A. Allman and her class in music, assisted by several of her former pupils and Mr. Philip Jacobs, violinist, gave a very delightful recital last evening at the home of Miss Allman, on Third street. Quite a number of friends and relatives of the participants gathered to enjoy the fine program. There were many pleasing numbers, including piano and vocal solos, duets and trios, and Mr. Jacobs rendered several fine violin solos, with Miss Margaret Schumack, an unusually accomplished musician, as accompanist. All were greatly pleased with the songs of Little Sam Ray, the youngest scholar of the class. His singing and playing were very good and bespoke the careful training of his worthy teacher. Miss Allman, whose very heart and soul is wrapped up in music, to which she devotes long, tedious hours in the training of her pupils, but the thorough skill the pupils displayed in their respective parts last night, fully exemplified what she has accomplished in their training. Every number on the program was good and everyone present was greatly pleased with the entertainment.

Rudy, Louis Wilhelm, John Wood, J. I. Marsh and Charles Thompson. Twenty-five members were present. Everyone told how they earned their dollars, and some of the experiences were very amusing. Twenty dollars was the amount realized. Dainty refreshments were served. Next month's meeting will be held at the handsome new home of Mrs. D. A. Alsbaugh, where the assistants will be Mesdames Hancock, Schlichter, Bertram and Hopkins.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fleming, at 507 Washington street, was opened Tuesday evening to the Mizpah class of the Fourth Street Methodist church. The evening was spent in social chat, art needlework and piano music, which was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Fleming. This class is using all the energy and effort they possess toward the building of the new church, and in last evening's meeting decided to donate a handsome pulpit to be placed in the new edifice. The proceeds of the past month amounted to $21.25, which will be handed over to the building fund committee. Mrs. Fleming was assisted by Mrs. J. Hatfield in serving dainty refreshments, after which all departed at a late hour. The June meeting will be held with Mrs. George Holt, of Fourth street.

The May Morning Breakfast was the means of bringing a great many girls together, business, school and home girls. Each group took keen interest in helping to make a success of the occasion. The spirit of those entering was one of good feeling, rather than rivalry. Many people did not cast a vote for the prettiest table, but the majority vote gave the High School Club girls the first prize, the second to the Business Girls' club had a center banked with moss, lilies of the valley, black glass baskets holding lilies of the valley, the phlegm and opening the air passages. Mrs. John Sharlita, 747 W. Water Street, Troy, O., reports:— "It stopped my little five year old son's cough after all other remedies had failed. I can not praise it too highly."

J. C. Stratton, 402 W. Main Street, Troy, Ohio, reports:— "I never had a medicine to relieve a cold more promptly."

Troy People Report Results Following Tests of Vap-O-Rub

When This External Treatment for Colds Was First Introduced in Troy, Local Druggists Presented Complimentary Jars to a Few of Their Customers, Requesting That They Report the Results.

Below We Give a Number of These Reports from Troy Citizens.

It does seem ridiculous to say that you can relieve a cold in fifteen minutes, and most colds—either head or chest, in one night, just by applying Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve over throat and chest. Actually this treatment is superior to internal medicines and in the South is universally used for all forms of cold troubles, from head colds, asthma and catarrh, down to deep chest colds, sore throat, bronchitis, croup, or incipient pneumonia. You just apply it over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth, having the covering loose around the neck, as the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These medicated vapors are inhaled with each breath all night long, loosening

the phlegm and opening the air passages. Mrs. John Sharlita, 747 W. Water Street, Troy, O., reports:— "It stopped my little five year old son's cough after all other remedies had failed. I can not praise it too highly."

J. C. Stratton, 402 W. Main Street, Troy, Ohio, reports:— "I never had a medicine to relieve a cold more promptly."

Mrs. Louella Morris, 734 Ridge Avenue:— "I think your Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve is the best of its kind I have ever used. It gave immediate relief in such cases for which I have used."

Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve comes in three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00.

TOURISTS TO RAID ALASKA; EUROPE'S BEAUTIFUL PLACES OUTDONE IN NORTH

Up Wrangell Narrows, Wrangell, Alaska.

Shut off from Europe, thousands of tourists are planning to go to Alaska this summer. Railroads and steamship lines going in the direction of Alaska are making great preparations for the heaviest traffic since the gold rush of 1898 and the years immediately succeeding. Tourists who have been to Uncle Sam's farthest north possession declare the beauties of Alaska exceed anything to be found in Europe.

CLEVELAND GARMENT WORKERS DISSATISFIED

Cleveland, O., May 3.—Leaders in the Women's Garment Workers' Union announced today a meeting for Friday night, when definite demands for wage increases will be made which, if not met, they assert, will bring on a general strike in factories here. M. Perlstein, of New York, a national organizer, is directing the movement here. There are five thousand workers involved here. An eight hour day and straight ten per cent wage increase will be demanded by Perlstein today.

CLEVELAND MAY HAVE STREET CAR STRIKE

Cleveland, O., May 3.—With a difference of $103,000 in wages for two years between the carmen's demands and the offer of the Cleveland Railway Company officials, union leaders today were seeking halls for mass meetings of the men tonight, when a strike vote will be taken.

Both sides made concessions at conferences held late yesterday under direction of Mayor Harry L. Davis, who is trying hard to avert a strike without endangering three-cent fare.

Today the mayor said: "I wouldn't bet either way on the question, or whether there will be a strike. I know that the final word has been said as far as the city and the company is concerned. More concessions will be made three-cent fare and the administration does not intend to permit that."

The men originally demanded 40 cents an hour and a minimum day of eight hours. The company offered thirty cents for first year men and thirty-three cents for others at once, and a further increase of a cent an hour to all May 1, 1917. The men now get 29 and 32 cents. At last night's conference the men reduced their demands to thirty-two and thirty-five cents an hour, with a minimum day of five hours now and eight hours May 1, 1917, also asking twenty minutes pay for taking cars to and from the homes and time for making trips to homes for relief work.

The company offered 31 and 34 cents now, with 32 and 35 cents May 1, 1917, and five hour minimum day, but refused the demands.

The company says its proposition

WILL ORGANIZE 8,000 STEEL WORKERS

Cleveland, O., May 3.—Six organizers of the American Federation of Labor have arrived here to open a whirlwind campaign to organize eight thousand employees of the nited Steel Corporation here. The object of the move is to demand an eight-hour day. Sol Southheimer is in charge of the effort, and said today the men are dissatisfied with the company's ten per cent wage increase granted February 1.

ARE FRAMING WAGE DEMANDS

Cleveland, O., May 3.—An executive session to consider framing wage demands, marked the second day of the convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. The delegates represent 12,000 workers. President John Williams, of Pittsburgh, says he expects the demands will include a general eight hour day and a wage increase of 15 per cent.

DEMANDS OF KEY MEN NOT TO BE GRANTED

New York, May 3.—The demands of telegraphers and signal men on the lines of the New York Central and Nickel Plate Railroads for increased wages and better hours will not be granted, it was announced here today by A. T. Burdick, a vice president of the New York Central.

A strike which according to employees would involve 8,000 men, had been set to begin tomorrow, but H. B. Perham, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, said today that reasonable time would be granted the railroad officials to give further consideration to the demands.

DUBLIN REVOLT

Dublin, May 2.—Via London, May 3.—One thousand rebel prisoners were marched through the city today, under strong military escort. They included many youths in their teens, and several women.

It is said that several thousand prisoners have been taken by the military.

Normal conditions are returning gradually in Dublin and reports received from outlying districts indicate the situation is well in hand.

The chief of the fire department estimates the damage to buildings at $1,000,000 and to stock at $750,000. The number of buildings destroyed or damaged is 179.

Pitiful State Of Stomach Invalid Who Recovered After Taking

Black-Draught.

Elmsford, N. Y.—"Only a few months ago, I prayed I would not see morning," says Mrs. Charles E. Jones, of this town. "For five long years, I was an invalid, and tried everything I heard of to obtain relief. My husband spent over four hundred dollars trying to get me well."

I read in one of the Ladies' Birthday Almanacs about Theodor's Black-Draught, and decided to try it. I took five packages, and am able to say that I can sleep like a baby, and eat, or drink anything I want, and walk two miles, easily. Feel better than I have for years."

Before taking Black-Draught, I was troubled with my heart, had indigestion and constipation. Twice, I was given up to die, but thanks to Black-Draught I did not.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught.

SMALL BOY CLAIMS FATHER KILLED MOTHER WITH GUN

TERRIBLE CRIME NEAR LUCASVILLE PRESENTS PUZZLING ASPECTS TO OFFICIALS; HUSBAND IS HELD AT COUNTY JAIL

Although no affidavits or charges have been filed, the county authorities are holding Roy Jordan, aged 35, in the county jail pending the investigations of the mysterious murder of his wife, Mrs. Pomelia Jordan, aged 41, who was found lying in a pool of blood and pieces of brain tissue on the floor of her home in the Flat Woods, which is three miles east of Lucasville. The woman's head was almost blown off as developments showed late Tuesday afternoon, by the discharge of a shot gun.

The four sons, Roy, aged 17; James, aged 13; George, aged 8, and Fred, aged 3, are also being held at the jail until the officers complete their investigations.

George, the eight-year-old son, made a confession before Judge Thomas C. Beatty, Sheriff E. W. Smith and Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait Wednesday morning, in which he accused his father of shooting his mother's head off with a shot gun following a quarrel. The authorities have decided to hold the coroner's inquest Thursday morning at the court house where the lad will be asked to again relate his gruesome story before the jury and in the presence of his father, who stoutly maintains the death of his wife was accidental.

ROY GIVES GRUESOME DETAILS

Shortly after leaving the prothonotary's office, George again told his story to Coroner J. W. Daehler. The boy said that he awakened early Tuesday morning and heard his mother and father quarreling in the kitchen. The father appeared to be angry because the mother had refused to get up at an earlier hour to prepare his breakfast.

The lad told of going into the kitchen and of eating his breakfast. After breakfast he says that his father left and his mother told him that she was not feeling very well and went into the room to lie down.

Shortly afterwards the father entered and called his mother, the boy claimed, and then entered the bedroom where he found his wife lying on the bed. He saw her terribly pale and he saw a shot gun lying on the floor near her head. He picked up the shot gun and fired it at his wife's head.

He frightened him so badly, he said, that he ran out to a small building just above the house on the hill and remained there until his father went to the barn. Then he came over and called his father and told him that his mother was dead.

The latter part of the lad's story corresponds with the statement made to Sheriff Smith Tuesday afternoon, when the lad claimed that he was out at the small building and came back into the room, found his mother dead and then called his father. But the lad claimed Tuesday that he saw his mother fall and strike her head against the bed.

The boy says that the father covered his face with his hands after he had shot his wife and exclaimed: "Oh, I hate this. I wouldn't have done it for the world." This is all the father said of the crime, the boy claims.

Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait, Sheriff E. W. Smith and Coroner J. W. Daehler left Wednesday noon for the scene of the crime in the Blair automobile where they will make a rigid investigation of the premises. They expect to fire a gun in the room and station someone at the nearest house to see if the report could be heard. They expect to find the remaining shot of the load that the father used and they will take specimens of the brain tissue and clotted blood that spot the walls and ceiling about the bed.

While examining the single barrel gun Wednesday noon, Deputy Sheriff Rame Arthur discovered several splashes of dried blood on the trigger guard and on the side of the gun. These were not found Tuesday when the gun was brought to light.

Tanlac may be obtained in the following towns: New Boston, E. H. Coburn; Sciotoville, Sciotoville Pharmacy; Bloomington, H. J. Gleim; Scioto, Stockham & Payne; McDermott, Ord Thompson; Lucasville, Dr. J. H. Cox; Stockdale, O. E. Emory & Co.; Jasper, J. W. Davey; Pike, R. E. Willson; Oak Hill, Jenkins Pharmacy; Otway, J. T. ed a shot gun wad in the base of the brain. This led to some rapid developments, which, according to the coroner, determined the nature of the wound, although both physicians are confident that part of the wounds were caused by a blow from a sharp instrument.

Sheriff E. W. Smith stated Wednesday that he was confident the woman had been killed with a shot gun, until the physicians decided that it was a sharp instru-

CHILD'S PREDICAMENT MOST PATHETIC

To think that the little innocent child, barely old enough to talk plainly, should have witnessed the cold blooded murder of his mother, then furnish the authorities with the information that it would fasten the crime upon his father, deeply moved all who

OLDER BOY TELLS DIFFERENT STORY

James, the thirteen year old boy was brought before the officials, Wednesday and asked about the crime. He told the same story as he related Tuesday. The judge took him by the hand and asked him if his father told them how his mother was killed. The boy said that he did not. "Don't you think this strange?" questioned the judge. "Don't you believe your father should have told you how she was killed?" After a few moments of careful thought, James said: "Yes I thought it was strange."

The body of the woman was lying on the floor parallel and a few feet away from the bed according to the testimony of the father and two sons. The face was near the head of the bed and her brains were scattered about the floor in great pools of clotted blood. But on the edge of the bed near the foot was a large spot of fresh blood which had thoroughly soaked the mattress.

If the boy's confession is true, the wife's head must have been lying on this spot when the gun was fired at her left eye.

The contents of the gun carried fully one-fourth of the unfortunate woman's head away. As Dr. Daehler graphically described it: It seemed as if the contents of the gun exploded when it struck the face for portions of brain tissue, pieces of scalp and splashes of clotted blood covered the walls and ceilings around the bed.

The Times had a representative at the scene of the murder all Tuesday afternoon during the investigations and the developments of the case, as the officials unraveled the mysterious skeins leading to the solution of one of the most perplexing problems in crime ever presented in Scioto county. It was late in the afternoon before it was definitely learned that the woman was shot. The developments of the afternoon upon the scene and started investigations, and the conflicting stories of the crime related by members of the family that afternoon are told by the reporter as follows:

Thus said a prominent construction engineer in a recent interview with the Times Man. "Probably more persons become discouraged over continued ill-health and disease than from any other cause. The stronger never 'say die', but have confidence that some day, if they 'try, try again', they will find relief, while their mentally weaker brothers give up in despair. Hundreds of people are testifying daily that they had tried everything in an effort to relieve their sufferings from stomach, kidney, liver or catarrhal affections and not until they found Tanlac did they realize any benefits."

For such sufferers Tanlac, the ideal tonic, appetizer, tissue builder, and invigorant, has proven invaluable. Tanlac builds up the system, promotes digestion, and proper assimilation of food, vitalizes the blood, cleanses the system and puts the stomach in good working order.

Tanlac was especially designed to build up the health through the stomach, blood and nerves. Strong nerves and rich blood contribute generously to the forgetfulness of sickness. Tanlac arouses to effective action the elements of nerve mastery that subdue defective health.

Tanlac is being especially introduced in Portsmouth at The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, where the Times Man daily explains its merits and what may be expected from its use.

Tanlac may be obtained in the following towns: New Boston, E. H. Coburn; Sciotoville, Sciotoville Pharmacy; Bloomington, H. J. Gleim; Scioto, Stockham & Payne; McDermott, Ord Thompson; Lucasville, Dr. J. H. Cox; Stockdale, O. E. Emory & Co.; Jasper, J. W. Davey; Pike, R. E. Willson; Oak Hill, Jenkins Pharmacy; Otway, J. T. Walsh; Young, G. H. Perry; Pebles, W. A. Gall; Buena Vista, Louis Dorn; West Union, W. D. Sutterfield; Fullerton, Ky., S. M. Robinson; Rarden, Taylor & Taylor; Wakefield, Charles Noel.

Charley Norris, who for past two years had been located in Orlando, Florida has returned to Portsmouth and will probably locate here again. Mrs. Norris and daughter Jane have been in the city for past month.

Rev. John Wesley Carpenter of Malden, W. Va., who has been visiting here the past week will have charge of the prayer meeting at the First Presbyterian church tonight.

ment, and was not surprised when the finding of the gun was shown how the crime had been committed.

The simple confession of the little child was one of the most pathetic cases ever conducted by Judge Thomas C. Beatty, probate court. The boy told the story of the horrible murder before the judge, Sheriff E. W. Smith and Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait.

"I tell you, gentlemen," said Judge Beatty, "it is terrible to think about it. There that little innocent child had to witness the horrible murder of his mother, then come in here and tell us all about it. It is one of the most pathetic cases I have ever had in my court."

The boy's eyes repeatedly surveyed the sheriff's office and jail corridor as he inquired "do you know where pa is?" Then in almost a whisper he said that his father had killed the mother. Asked to tell just how it happened he said that his mother wasn't well and that the father wanted her to get up at daybreak. She finally did so and prepared breakfast, then went back to bed. This, he said, angered the father who while she still lay in bed seized the gun and shot her.

The officials declare that this was substantially what the boy just previously had told them and that he had also said it was he who carried the gun from the death-chamber into the adjoining room.

George's story was not divulged to the two older brothers, Roy and Jim, when the officials went over the events of the tragedy with them, nor were they advised of the finding of gun shot wads in the brains or of bird shot in the blood-soaked mattress.

Jim was either too grief stricken or averse to making any statement for he sobbed continuously and little was gained from him that might throw any light upon the mystery.

Roy and Jim seemed to remember a great deal about the father but was uncertain about what the mother had said or done.

Roy said it was about 6 o'clock when he arose. He said his father always called him because he would never get up in response to his mother's calls. He said if she ate any breakfast it was before he got up or after he left but that frequently she never ate any breakfast. The father, he said, started to go to milk the cows and he heard his mother say to the father, "I'm going with you" to which he replied, "No you're not able and better stay home."

He said the father talked of fixing a fence after he was through milking and told him and Jim to go up on the hill and cut some posts. Asked how much time it would require to milk two cows, he said he himself had time and again done so in five minutes, but did not know how long it took his father, who, he said, would do his feeding at the same time and be gone for an hour. He said he and Jim had been up around the hill between a half hour and an hour when the father came running up and told them that the first confession was made by George Tuesday night to Sheriff E. W. Smith, Prosecuting Attorney Jos. T. Micklethwait and a Times man.

The officials were rather surprised at the boy's statement, contradicting as it did his original story that his mother fell in a faint, her head striking a bed post.

"Are they going to send pa to the electric chair," anxiously inquired the bare-footed lad of the Times man sitting beside him, while the officials were busy questioning his brother, Jim, in an adjoining room.

Asked what knowledge he had of an electric chair he said he had never heard of such until that evening. He believed it was a judge he had heard speak of it and said from what he could gather it was something that "they kill people in."

"Do You Know Where Pa Is?"

The boy's eyes repeatedly surveyed the sheriff's office and jail corridor as he inquired "do you know where pa is?" Then in almost a whisper he said that his father had killed the mother. Asked to tell just how it happened he said that his mother wasn't well and that the father wanted her to get up at daybreak. She finally did so and prepared breakfast, then went back to bed. This, he said, angered the father who while she still lay in bed seized the gun and shot her.

He said his mother had been in poor health for some time. "One doctor told her that she was developing tuberculosis, another said she was suffering with liver trouble, while a third physician told her that while she was as robust as he himself that she was afflicted with heart trouble."

Mother Had Talked Of Killing Herself

He said that in speaking of sick people generally, she remarked, not so long ago, that when people got to feeling as bad as she did sometimes they ought to kill themselves but she never came right out with a direct threat to kill herself. "No, I don't believe pa killed ma, for he was always good to her," continued the youth. "I would rather believe that she killed herself. Pa always tells the truth about everything but I don't know whether he would about anything like this, though what he would say I would believe. Ma was dissatisfied the first two years we lived at Flat Woods." "Yes, we own our home place but it is not entirely paid for. Pa still owes J. H. Brant $500, I believe. I think the property is in both their names for I know the farm they owned in Kentucky and which they sold before coming to Ohio was in both of their names. While the youngsters claimed the live

George had said, "Ma's dead." Started To Run For the House

He said he and Jim started on a run to the house, he arriving there first. The father was in the kitchen and said to him, "Isn't this awful," then pointed to fragments of flesh and brains on the walls and door casing. He said the father said to send for the neighbors and seeing that he was not going he himself started. Just as he was approaching the home on his way back he found that two neighbor women had already arrived. They had been working in a garden with only one field between them and the front of the house. "They heard pa crying," said the youth, continuing his story. "That was something unusual for them to see and they evidently heard the report of a shot gun."

"Why was there a shot gun fired?" quickly interrupted Mr. Micklethwait. "Well I hear you people talking about a gun, that's all I know," replied Roy, who said the report of a gun if there had been one could have been heard by the women whereas he and his brother were too far around the hill for that.

Asked what his mother had done during the hour following the conversation about milking the cows, he said he did not know but said she had not washed the breakfast dishes for Mrs. Skaggs told him that she washed them after she had been called to the house.

He said his mother had been in poor health for some time. "One doctor told her that she was developing tuberculosis, another said she was suffering with liver trouble, while a third physician told her that while she was as robust as he himself that she was afflicted with heart trouble."

Mother Had Talked Of Killing Herself

He said that in speaking of sick people generally, she remarked, not so long ago, that when people got to feeling as bad as she did sometimes they ought to kill themselves but she never came right out with a direct threat to kill herself. "No, I don't believe pa killed ma, for he was always good to her," continued the youth. "I would rather believe that she killed herself. stock on the place they really belonged to pa who did all of the selling and buying. No, he had no bank account."

Roy said since his mother's illness during the past week neighbor women came to the house to call on her, mentioning Clara Ward, who he said was at the home last Friday and on Monday of this week. He said she got dinner for them and remained until evening. Hester Walker was another neighbor who had visited the home, he said.

Roy said the gun had been purchased by his father a year ago from a neighbor for a dollar and that there was no regular place for keeping it about the house. He said the last time it was discharged was when Charles Boggs, who came to buy it, shot at a mark. It would not remain cocked and he did not buy it. He thought that was since last Christmas.

Roy said he and his father and George had slept together Monday night in one bed of the adjoining room where the mother, Jim and the baby occupied a bed and where she met her death. George was the first to arise, he said, the father telling him to awaken the mother.

Pitiful Scene At the Jail

Little George by this time had fallen sound asleep in a chair in the sheriff's office. He had just previously asked for a glass of water and after drinking it appeared refreshed though he had expressed wonder several times if he would be given water with which to wash the mud from his bare feet.

The baby son, Fred, a bright faced, light-haired child, snugly reposed in deep sleep on a cot in the corner just behind the door leading into the juvenile ward. On the opposite side of the room lay sleeping two juvenile offenders. An extra bed was brought in for the three Jordan boys and within a short time all had retired for the night.

In examining the personal effects of the husband and father, which still lay scattered on a table in the office, Sheriff Smith found eight dollars in money and a prescription written by Dr. Hurling, of Lucasville, which had never been filled.

The Way to Float.

"This is the advice of an old swimmer to those who cannot swim: 'Any human being who will have the presence of mind to clasp the hands behind his back and turn the face toward the zenith may float at ease and in perfect safety in tolerably still water. When you first find yourself in deep water you have only to consider yourself an empty pitcher. Let your mouth and nose and not the top of your heavy head be the highest part of you and you are safe. But thrust up one of your bony hands and down you go—turning up the handle tips over the pitcher.' There are reason and logic in this."

The race shown made by the Wheelersburg boys is attributed to the splendid coaching of Prof. James Turner who had the boys working hard for several weeks before the meet. Superintendent McCowen was in charge of the entire event and had the following assistants: Prof. Turner, manager; Judges, W. L. Ricker, L. N. Harness and Paul Selley; line keepers, J. F. Shelo, Louis McKinley, Louis Smith; official scorer, E. O. McCowen; announcer, McKinley; official starter, referee and clerk, Paul E. Cronier.

A silver loving cup will be presented to the Wheelersburg school. The cup will be appropriately engraved. The first school winning the cup three times will get to keep it. It will not be necessary to win the cup three times in succession.

IN TWO-MILE RELAY AT PENN CARNIVAL

The Yale team won the two-mile relay race in the recent carnival at Philadelphia. It was not until the third relay, however, that the wearer of the "Y" succeeded in passing the Chicago and Michigan runners. This picture was taken just as Barker of Yale was making the spurt that put him in the lead early in the third quarter.

FUNNY OLD GAME? WE WILL SAY SO

Baseball continues to be the funny old game. There is Ralph Sharman doing bench duty for the Memphis Southern league club. Last year he was the best pitcher in the Ohio State and fans around the circuit believed he was ripe for big league plucking. Well he went up, being sold to the Giants. McGraw turned Sharman over to the Memphis team. He failed to hit in the first four games this team played and Sharman was assigned to the dark recesses of the bench. But wait a minute. The Memphis Chickies left Tuesday on their longest trip of the season, a 25 day jaunt and Sharman with two inexperienced pitchers were left at home. Yep, funny old game.

BIG GAME SATURDAY

The Portsmouth Ohio State leaguers and the steel plant will clash again Saturday in Millbrook park. The teams lined up against each last Sunday and the leaguers won 3 to 1. The steel plant team will have out its regular team and expect to get revenge for last Sunday's defeat.

SUMMER BOXING IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, May 3.—Minneapolis boxing enthusiasts may have the opportunity to witness fight bouts throughout the coming summer. If an experiment of officials of the Minneapolis boxing club proves successful, it is planned to stage a fight May 12 and if the turnout of fans warrants it, boxing matches will be held here the year round instead of only during the winter season, as at present.

ENDS IN A TIE

Philadelphia, May 3.—The Columbia and University of Pennsylvania baseball teams battled to a 15 inning tie here Tuesday. The game was called on account of darkness with the score of 2 to 2. The score: Columbia—10 runs, 10 hits, 10 errors—2, 9, 2. University—10 runs, 10 hits, 10 errors—2, 10, 1. Batteries—Hock and Lane; Spelman and Gibson.

BOOST FOR TENNIS

Chicago, May 3.—A boom for tennis throughout this part of the country, as well as in this city is seen in the announcement that the newly organized Chicago Tennis Club has purchased grounds in the North Elmhurst section of the city at a cost of $75,000 and will spend $50,000 on courts. Efforts will be made to land several of the best and most.

TO GET EARLY START

Males in Wis. Mar 3.—Spring football practice at the University of Wisconsin will be well under way May 3 when Dr. Williamson of Harvard, the players' new coach, will take charge of the squad. John Deberry, who will assist in coaching the men, arrives with Dr. Williamson.

ANNUAL PASS SENT TO THE PREACHERS

President William N. Gableman Tuesday mailed members of the local Ministerial Association their annual passes. The preachers are always looked after in the River City and they appreciate the courtesy of the local club. Many have developed into ardent fans.

NEALE IS REGULAR

Earl Neale has become a fixture in the outfield of the Reds. He is a good fielder and hitter and succeeds Kenneth Williams, who was sent back to Spokane.

PASS BOOKS DELIVERED

Officials of the local team Wednesday began delivering the annual season books. The club has had a list of book buyers for several years and renewals are made before the beginning of each season. The 325 books contain 70 passes and the 210 books 25 passes.

NO GAME IN CINCINNATI

The Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game booked for Redland Tuesday was postponed on account of wet grounds. The Pirates took a train for dear old Pittsburgh.

FENCE SPACE ALL SOLD

Signs, signs, signs. Signs everywhere, that is in Millbrook park. The management has sold every inch of available fence space in the park for signs and the Grimes-Peebles company put a force of men to work today putting the signs on the fence.

BURLEY CUBS AT WORK

Maysville, May 3.—Manager Jones had the league players out for practice yesterday and quite a few fans were present to see the boys work out. The team will do considerable practicing this week and Manager "Jimmy" hopes to get the boys in shape to win the opener tomorrow week from Portsmouth.

NEW PITCHER FOR REDS

The pitcher who may prove the man the Reds need is on the way to join this club. He is Elmer Kuetzer, purchased from the Boston Braves at the winter price. Kuetzer is a right-hander, who will be 28 July 22. He pitched for Lawrence, Mass., in 1909 and that fall went to Brooklyn. The Dodgers loaned the Reds to Kuetzer that year. Clark Griffith was mighty anxious to land him, but missed connections.

Dills Was Called Home

Outfielder Stewart Dills of the local team left Tuesday afternoon for Maysville, O., after receiving a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his mother. He expects to rejoin his club Friday.

How About Ed Walsh?

"The White Sox should win this season without having added Eddy Collins, Joe Jackson and Eddy Murphy," says a critic. Not, but they have never added another Walsh.

Earned Fame And Ten Spot

Buck Kennedy, who stopped Kid Kiegl in less time than it takes to tell is a brother of "Grandma" Kennedy. The latter was at one time one of the best welterweights in this part of the country and has fought some of the best men in the arena game. Kennedy had no intention of fighting and he plunked down his big round dollar the same as the other spectators when he entered the ring Monday night. He not only got "the bean" but he was paid $10 for putting away Promoter Kiegl's son. Can you beat it? Wilson was to have gone on with Kiegl, but when he failed to show up Kennedy substituted for him and earned himself glory and a ten spot.

GOING TO MAYSVILLE? WELL, SIGN PETITION

President William N. Gableman and Fred N. Tynes are busy circulating a petition for signatures of fans, who wish to go to Maysville on Wednesday May 10 and witness the opening game between the Spencer men and the Burlington Cubs. Their petition is being freely signed and probably 150 fans will make the trip. When 100 names are secured a special train will be secured to run from Maysville and the River City band will be taken along. Maysville came up 500 strong last year when the "world's series" was played off here and in Maysville and the local fans are anxious to return the compliment. On opening day in Maysville that week, the "Birth of a Nation" will be shown in that city and a class of seats will be reserved in the Washington theatre for local fans if they care to view this screen spectacle. If you are a red blooded fan attach your signature to Messrs. Tynes and Gableman's petition. The rest will be easy.

What Is Doing Up In Charleston

Charleston, May 3.—The Senators spent two hours yesterday morning on the ball field but practice in the afternoon was suspended because of the rain. Jake Daubert is still on the injured list, his arm is in bad shape but the advice of doctors yesterday was that the season is up with light practice and take care of the valuable member. John O'Mally filled the shortfield position and showed up well in yesterday's workout. He and Mohrman are the smallest men on the squad. Only six days remain before the opening of the league season here and the season is up with light practice and take care of the valuable member. MURDER

HOW THE AUTHORITIES UNRAVELED MYSTERY

The home of the Jordans is a little three room rough-board structure recently built on a hill, which overlooks the low rolling plateau just east of Lucasville, which is known as the "Flat Woods." A panorama for several miles around can plainly be seen from the house. Two adjoining rooms of the home face the south, with the east room opening abruptly into a large kitchen.

In the east room, near a bed standing in the southwest corner, the ghostly corpse of Mrs. Pomelia Jordan was found, it is claimed by the husband and three sons. Apparently she had been a comely woman, medium height, dark brown hair and was dressed in a blue calico frock.

Before anyone arrived, the husband says, he picked up his wife's

"PA LOOKED AND THEN CALLED THE BOYS"

"He came up and looked and then went up to the gap and called Roy and Jim. They were up on the hill with the mules cutting some poles." Before pap left he told me to run over to Smith's and tell 'em that ma was dead and I done it."

The little chap told the same story several times and firmly maintained that his mother fell against the bed and killed herself. But to those who questioned him he appeared to be on the point of telling something dreadful then would suddenly stop, then would break down and cry.

While the lad was sorrowfully setting on a small log just above the home pondering over something and watching the morbid crowd round and about the house, Dr. O. R. Micklethwait and Thos. Hartman walked up to him and questioned him sharply about the circumstances of his mother's death. He rigidly adhered to his story but was forced into a damaging statement, the officials believe, when Mr. Hartman suggested that someone had killed his mother with an axe then went down to the barn. George said: "Oh, no. It didn't happen that way." He refused to answer any other questions.

"MY MA IS DEAD; SHE FELL"

Fred, the little three year old, low headed baby of the family, stood in the corner of the kitchen with his hands over his face sobbing. Near him was a small red enameled chair which he afterwards carried around with him. "My ma is dead; she fell," was the only information he would give the officials.

Mrs. Verna Skaggs, wife of William Skaggs, who lives on a farm adjoining the Jordan place, was out working in the garden at the time George called his father. She said she heard some shouting and cries at the Jordan home shortly after she went into the garden but did not think much about it until later when the little boy came out on the bank and called.

SHOWED WIFE'S SCATTERED BRAINS

"When he took us up and showed us the brains," continued Mrs. Skaggs, "he said he thought he used to see lots of trouble but he knew what trouble was now. He told us that he was down to the barn milking when his son called him and said that his mother was dead."

Mrs. Skaggs' testimony was corroborated by Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Blaine Smith and William H. Skaggs.

Shortly afterwards, William Skaggs came and upon seeing the bloody room, went to the home of Otto Fields and told him about it. Mrs. Fields then called Lucasville and told Thomas Hartman, proprietor of the Hartman and Son undertaking establishment, of the woman's death. Coroner J. W. Daehler was then notified and Hartman left for the Jordan home.

After seeing the body, Mr. Hartman said he was convinced that the sheriff should be notified and returned to Lucasville. In the meantime, Dr. Daehler was attempting to negotiate the steep hill about three-quarters of a mile back of Lucasville, when his automobile skidded and went over a small embankment. He left his disabled car and walked the rest of the way, through the rain—a distance of about two miles.

Dr. Daehler said that when he entered the Jordan home and saw the remains that he was convinced that it was a case of murder and after listening to the story told by the husband about his wife being sick and subject to fainting spells, decided to summon help and possibly make an arrest. So he told all that it appeared to have happened just as it had been claimed and he would leave. Before the coroner departed Jordan offered to pay him for his trip.

HUSBAND IS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait drove up. Together the party went to the house where they found the husband seated in the kitchen near the stove, with his head bowed in his hands. He was being closely watched by the two deputies.

He arose and spoke to the sheriff when the officer entered and the handcuffs were immediately placed upon his wrists. He stood looking at the small steel circles for a few minutes and then began to sob. The sheriff led Jordan into the room adjoining the death chamber and left him under the care of Blaine Smith and William Skaggs.

Drs. O. R. Micklethwait and J. W. Daehler hastily examined the wounds upon the woman and came to a decision that she had met her death from the blows of a sharp instrument, presumably an axe or hatchet. The only thing that bothered them was a small black fringe about the wound on the left side of the face that resembled powder burns. But a clean straight cut extending through the center of the skull made it appear as though she had been struck by an axe or a sharp instrument.

Then a search began for the implements. An axe was found near a small wood pile and Roy told the coroner and prosecutor that their hatchet was in the barn. He offered to find it for them. But

GUN FOUND UNDER BED

The prosecutor and coroner entered the room where the husband was confined and questioned him about a gun. He said that he had an old single barreled shot gun but it was broken and had been "cast in the rubbish up in the loft." The three sons were asked about the gun and they all said it was in the loft.

Just as one of the party was starting to search the loft, Prosecuting Attorney Micklethwait called him back and whispered that the gun was under one of the beds, as the stock could be seen. It was brought out and examined. There was no dust upon it and the end of the barrel was still oily and

HUSBAND TELLS OF TRAGEDY

While sitting upon the side of a bed in the front room, Roy Jordan, the husband, related the events that he claims transpired before his wife's death. Jordan is a tall stocky-built fellow with a massive head set upon powerful shoulders. He has a broad florid face, blue eyes and short heavy brown hair. When first seen by the sheriff he was dressed in a pair of new blue overalls and a gray coat.

"I got up, I guess about six o'clock. My wife got up a little earlier," said the husband dejectedly in a high pitched voice. "Yes, I had breakfast and went down to milk. The first I know of it was when George was standing on the bank calling me and hollering that ma was dead. I come running and crying for it was a shock and I couldn't believe it."

"Well, I guess I did go to one of the outbuildings," continued Jordan, when asked if he and his wife had not met there early in the morning, according to a story Mrs. Skaggs claimed Jordan told her. "And I was out there looking after a settin' hen. Well Po-

HAD TROUBLE IN KENTUCKY

"You see, I had considerable trouble with the Jordans over in Kentucky and that is the reason I came here. They wanted to take everything I had away from me. I came here in March four years ago. I bought the farm of eighty acres from Stevens Spurlock. People here haven't treated me that way."

Upon the wall directly behind Jordan were two enlarged pictures, one of which was covered with a dusty cap. A little to the right was another picture securely covered with a piece of brown oil cloth. When asked who the pictures represented, he said the first two were of his parents.

"That one there has never been uncovered for several

CLAIMED WIFE WAS JEALOUS

"Me and her had several little quarrels before we moved here. She seemed to be jealous and had jealous ideas and it made trouble but we haven't had any since we have been here. She was a little dissatisfied for two years after we moved here, but she hadn't complained since then."

"Now I have been hopin' that she would get well and I wouldn't have cared half so much if she had killed herself long time ago as I do now. It is awful," covering his face with his hands.

When asked if anyone had visited his home during the morning before his wife was found dead, he said that no one had been there but himself and three boys. Neighbors in the vicinity of the Jordan home claim that the family bore a bad reputation. Several contended that Jordan was a mean man and was always boasting of his strength.

Mrs. Skaggs said that Mrs. Jordan had told her on one occasion that she and her husband had some trouble and he had struck her.

BOYS STICK TO THEIR STORY

Standing in the little room facing their dead mother and surrounded by a crowd of witnesses, the boys were asked by Sheriff Smith if they believed that their mother had fallen and struck her head against the bed. They silently nodded that they did. "Then how do you account for those pieces of brain tissues hanging there on the sides of the wall. Look at that wall there! Do you see the blood and small pieces of brains hanging there? And look at the blood splotches on the head of the bed and look at the pieces of brains upon the ceiling. Do you see them? Now do you mean to stand up here and tell me that your mother fell and on reaching the structure, he fell in his search. Finally he said he believed the hatchet was over at the second barn on the hillside and Coroner Daehler accompanied him there and it was found. It did not show any signs of having been used as an instrument of death.

The neighboring fields were searched for other evidence, while the officers closely questioned Roy. He was asked if he did not know who killed his mother and said: "I liked my mother the best. I don't know anything about it except what I told you. It wouldn't do for me to know."

The breach was thrown open and a discharged shell was found. It also smelled of fresh powder, according to the prosecutor. It was a single barreled gun.

It was shown to Jordan and he said that it was his and that he had purchased it a little over a year ago. He also claimed that it was broken and had not been discharged for almost a year.

This find led the officers to make a diligent search of the walls and floor for shot marks but they failed to find any. And it was believed that the woman met her death by the blow from a sharp instrument.

melia came out and wanted to wash up the floor. She laughed and I must have shoved her for she struck the side of the house and I said, 'Pomelia, did I hurt you, honey,' and she said 'No.' She came back to the house in front of me and I told her I was going to the barn to milk. She wanted to go with me and I asked her how she felt. She told me she felt a little better this morning and I told her to lay down, that she couldn't go to the barn with me. And now they have put these things on me. Lord, forbid such a thought. It is awful."

After sobbing a few moments, Jordan arose and paced the floor. He was then asked several other questions which he answered. "I was thirty-five years old my last birthday. My father and mother are both dead. My father was named George Jordan and he lived in Lawrence county, Ky. I was married eighteen years ago. My wife's name was Pomelia Foster. She was born October 27, 1875. Her parents are still living. Their name is Mr. and Mrs. James Foster. He asked him how he accounted for them. "I just counted that you would accuse me of something I didn't do," Jordan declared vehemently.

The prisoner was then confronted with a faded blue shirt which was found in the room adjoining by Coroner Daehler. The shirt was stained crimson in several places with blood. Jordan acknowledged that it was his shirt but claimed that he wiped the

HUSBAND SAT AND SOBBED

The officials then entered the next room to examine the clothing cast in the corner and Jordan walked over in front of an open fireplace and squatted down just below a copy of a dusty Bible which was lying upon the rough board mantle. He sat and nervously sobbed until the officers reappeared and took him into the next room.

In examining the bundle of clothing, with which he said he cleaned up the blood, the officials had cast a portion of the brain about the size of a man's thumb fist into the corner, where it lay exposed to the rays of the sun which was streaming in through a small window. This piece of the brain had been wrapped up in a brown checkered apron, apparently belonging to the

DISCOVER SHOT GUN WAD IN BRAIN

Just as the coroner was preparing to leave, the most important find of the afternoon was made when Claude Hartman discovered a felt shot gun wad embedded in the base of the exposed brain. Closer investigations revealed two small bird shots and the walls were again examined for shot marks but none was found.

Near the foot of the bed, close to the edge, was a great blood soaked spot which Jordan claimed he believed was the place where his wife struck her head. The mattress was cut with a knife and six or seven small shots corresponding in size to the two found in the brain were found.

The portion of the brain in the adjoining room was again examined and another shot gun wad was found. Dr. Daehler, who notified Jordan nervously cover the brain with the apron, made this find and said that he believed at the time that Jordan covered it to conceal something; so when the first shot gun wad was found, he immediately went into the next room and quickly discovered another.

The husband had gone to the city before the discovery was made, but the four boys were there. Roy, the oldest son, evinced considerable interest in the find and asked several questions about it. At the request of the sheriff, he found several shot gun shells and gave them to the officer. They corresponded with the empty shell found in the gun.

BOYS ARE BROUGHT TO CITY

The four boys were placed in a farm wagon by Sheriff Smith and brought to Lucasville, where they were met by Guy Blair in his machine. The party then came to this city and the four boys were taken to the county jail.

The woman's death must have occurred between six and eight o'clock for Thomas Hartman stated that he reached the home about nine o'clock and the body had appearances of being dead for about two hours.

CHILDREN WE WORRY ABOUT

Close confinement in school during the past winter, overstudy, perhaps, an attack of the grip or tonsillitis, some one of these things is doubtless responsible for the condition of the child who shows a decline in health now.

What are the symptoms? Pallor and languor, a sickle appetite, dark rings under the eyes, bronchial colds. Very often the best efforts of the family physician fail in such cases and the condition of the child causes the most intense anxiety. Cod-liver oil, cod-liver oil, cod-liver oil, because the weak stomach is unable to digest it.

Try this treatment. Before breakfast each morning give the child the juice of half an orange. After the meal give one of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Keep this up for a few days and then give one of the pills after the evening meal also. Watch the child before beginning the treatment, and again after two weeks. An increase in weight of from two to five pounds will show you that you are on the right track at last. Care is necessary in the diet of the patient and it will be well to send to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a diet book and the pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood." Both are free. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Monteith called upon a number of merchants to sound them as to the extent of encouragement he might receive should he have his boat take the place of the Klondike, which was sold last week and taken up the river. He is willing to operate the boat if merchants will agree to bear the expense of fuel. The Helen E. is ten feet shorter than the Klondike but is a double decker, having a ladies' cabin above and a men's cabin and freight room below and is a much faster boat than the Klondike, being amply able to reduce the running time at least an hour. Capt. Monteith holds a pilot and master license from Wheeling to Cincinnati, has been a steamboatman for twenty-five years and is at present residing on the Wade farm, 12 miles below Portsmouth, which he purchased a few years ago.

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200 Percent in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a well known specialist, who has studied widely in all this country and Europe, said: "If you were to make an analysis of blood test on all people who are ill, you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The human body is supplied with its multitude of various symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue, and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this, the blood is thin and watery, and people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night; others are always tired all day; some tussy and irritable; some skinny and bloodless; but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases it is worse than foolhardy to take stimulating medicines or waste drugs, which only whip up your fading vital powers for the moment, at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can walk without tiring. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people, who were ailing all the time, and who even tried their strength and endurance and utterly got rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this after they had some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonderful wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good, sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron, like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were just as irritating and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer form of organic iron, all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

Will You Enter Junior Corn Contests? Send In Names

Boys expecting to enter the Corn Growing Contest in Scioto County should write at once to J. R. Clarke, Bureau of Junior Contests, Columbus, Ohio, in order to get the necessary information. Free state, district and county prizes are offered.

Free fertilizer to the contestant will be given if requested. Attention is called to the fact that Rule 8 of the Corn Growing Rules has been revised.

Rule 8 of the Corn Growing Rules has been revised to read as follows:

"The contestant shall assist in doing or shall do all the work on the acre, such as planning manuring, fertilizing plowing, preparing the seed bed, and all the other work up to and including the planting, but from the time the corn is planted, up until the time of the husking, the contestant shall do all of the work on the acre. The contestant may have assistance in husking the corn."

The reasons for the changing of this rule are:

First: Not many farmers can afford to give an exclusive acre of soil within a given field for corn to be worked in special manner in the contest.

Second: Most boys assist in the work of the entire corn crop of the farm and do not have opportunity to prepare an acre exclusively.

Third: It is a difficult matter to have some one person prepare a single acre of soil for corn separate and apart from the rest of the land planted in corn.

Fourth: Some work before planting is often too heavy for a boy to do alone.

Fifth: There seems to be a general demand among the farmers for a change in the rules owing to the foregoing reasons.

Efficient Use of Gas In The Home

Article VI.- Matches Cheaper Than Gas.

Quite often two or three burners are lighted from One Match, even though several Minutes Elope before the Second and Third Burners are Needed. This is something done thoughtlessly, or through a Mistaken Idea of Economy. The Idea that GAS is cheaper than Matches is Erroneous. With the exception of the Broiler and Oven Burners, No Burner on a GAS Stove Should Be Lighted Unless Needed Immediately.

Always Turn Off the GAS Before the Vessel Is Removed from the Burner, or the Baking Taken from the Oven. If this is neglected until the food is placed in dishes or the baking disposed of, it may be forgotten.

Valuable Health Hints For Our Readers

CATARRH
Just because you hawk and spit and your nose is wet, cold, red, sore and a nuisance, don't merely plug it up. You can't cure catarrh by greasing your nose. Take S. S. S. regularly and you will drive catarrhal poisons out of your blood. The sufferer becomes well soon and no longer continues to accumulate the mucus that gathers and thickens into catarrh. S. S. S. stimulates the cells of the tissues to select from the blood their own essential nutriment. Rapid recovery from catarrhal inflammation in the stomach, kidney, bladder and all membranes is the result.

POISONED BLOOD.
So many different things contribute to poison the blood and the effect is so varied that the sufferer becomes a puzzle to himself. It is best to use barbituric acid. If you have any blood troubles, get a bottle of S. S. S. and take according to directions. Don't take anything else. Poisoned blood is had enough without ruining your bones, joints, teeth and vital organs with minerals. S. S. S. so stimulates cellular activity that they reject all poisonous influences and select only those materials in the blood that make healthy tissue. This is why its assistance toward recovery is so noticeable and at times remarkable.

MALARIA.
Throughout the country, wherever malaria abounds, are happy, joyful people to whom S. S. S. has given wonderful help in the treatment of malaria after the most sickening torture imaginable. The great complexity of malaria's victims, the chills and fever, the malarial dysentery that seems to defy all other treatment, the persistent anemia where the blood turns to water and the system wastes away. These are the conditions that S. S. S. so effectively aids in overcoming, by helping to restore the blood to its natural vigor.

STUBBORN SORES.
Sometimes a sore spot becomes indolent. The tissues surrounding it become and are unable to provide sufficient nutriment to stop the drain. It is then chronic. Just saturate your blood with S. S. S. This is quickly accomplished, as S. S. S. is naturally assimilated the same as milk or any other healthful liquid.

Nature acts with marvelous rapidity when given the proper assistance, and S. S. S. so stimulates cellular activity that the parts surrounding an ulcer secrete from the blood the materials that make new tissue. Thus the sore spot rapidly heals in a natural way.

Local applications for any skin disease will afford protection from with-elimination. Avoid salts, calomel and other drastic purgatives, as they absorb the moisture from the walls and membranes of the intestines, weaken the muscular action, produce chronic constipation and thus stagnate the system with rheumatic poisons. Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store. Don't take a substitute.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable and is prepared only by the Swift Specifics Co., 271 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Write for special booklet on any of the diseases mentioned and if medical advice is wanted, write for that also to address given above. Both booklet and medical advice are free.

MISS HANKO WILL GIVE SIX LECTURES AND COOKERY LESSONS

Women of all classes and types are interested in the course of lectures and cookery lessons to be given here by Miss Emma Hanko under the auspices of The Times. Teachers and students of domestic science in many parts of the country have attended Miss Hanko's lecture and cookery course and gained from it much of value in their school work. Club women all approve of Miss Hanko's Better Foods Better Homes course and in many cities she has received the endorsement of entire clubs and individual club members. One of her most successful Better Foods Better Homes schools was held in Boston under the auspieces of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Experienced and seasoned housewives who have already achieved local fame because of their household management and good cooking, will like Miss Hanko because she suggests many methods of which they will approve and because she will offer many new ideas and short cuts and recipes which they will want to try out in their own well regulated homes. Younger women less successful in their homes by reason of less experience, are going to gain from Miss Hanko's lectures and cookery lessons here a fund of valuable information that will enable them to like their housework better, accomplish more with less effort, have less trouble with the financial end of their home-making and in short have better and happier homes. System and household management and economy are all to be considered in this course, which is a varied and comprehensive one.

Miss Hanko has studied the problems that daily present themselves to the average housewives with thoughtful and intelligent attention and knows how to solve the most difficult of these in a very satisfactory manner. In her course she will show how by careful planning, the housewife may bring order out of chaos in the management of her affairs and put her domestic arrangements on an actual business basis. This matter of household efficiency is one every broad-minded woman is interested in and will be discussed by Miss Hanko in a manner to appeal to every woman in the city. So much is claimed for Miss Hanko's course because of the splendid success achieved by her in her Better Foods Better Homes work in other cities, and housewives of Portsmouth are all invited to be at the opening session of The Times' Better Foods Better Homes school at Kendall Hall next Monday afternoon at two-thirty to find out for themselves whether or not Miss Hanko is as charming a young lady and fine cook and as helpful a lecturer as she is reputed to be. Her lectures and cookery lessons here will be free. No admission will be charged and nothing will be offered for sale.

"Hell's Hinges" is the title of the latest TRIANGLE PLAY in which W. S. Hart appears. Seldom has there been a motion picture so intensely interesting, so absorbing. Not for a moment is any audience permitted to relax or forget the stirring action on the screen. No time or money was spared to make this TRIANGLE PLAY so good that it would set a new standard. For the benefit of one stirring scene only an entire town was destroyed by fire—actually burned to the ground.

MOTHER KILLS HER THREE SMALL CHILDREN

Penna. Grove, N. J. May 3.—Mrs. O. Stahlewich, 36 years old, was found lying with her throat cut on a blazing bed beside the bodies of her three children at her home here today. Two of the children, Stephen 5 years old, and Frank 3, were dead when neighbors attracted by the smoke, discovered the tragedy. Elizabeth, six months old, died shortly afterwards, and the mother is in a hospital in Wilmington, where it is declared she will die. The woman's husband disappeared about three weeks ago and neighbors say she had been acting queerly ever since.

BERLIN REPLY IS FINISHED

GERMAN ATTITUDE WILL BE MADE CLEAR IN NOTE

Berlin, May 3.—(Wireless to Associated Press Via Sayville)—The draft of the German reply has been finished. The reply is subject to minor alterations, which may result from interchanges of views between Berlin and general headquarters. The attitude of Germany will be stated in clear and precise terms. The note will leave no room for doubt concerning the exact position assumed by Germany, which will communicate the definite nature of instructions that will be given to submarine commanders and other data on which Washington itself can judge the situation.

30,000 GARMENT WORKERS WILL GO OUT ON A STRIKE

New York, May 3.—Orders for a strike of 30,000 garment workers were posted in two thousand factories in and near this city early today. The workers were directed by the union officials to quit the shops at 11 a. m. and go quietly to their headquarters in halls. The strikers will join the 30,000 other garment workers already locked out from 409 factories controlled by members of the Manufacturers' Protective Association. The union leaders declared that more than 2,400 factories and 60,000 workers would be idle. A large part of the women's clothing industry of the United States is represented by these shops. About five thousand pickets have been selected for duty in front of the factories. The union officials announced that they had received word that most of the independent manufacturers were willing to grant all of the demands of the strikers, as soon as the strike went into effect and the demands were formulated. Benjamin Schlossinger, president of the International Union, said the union was not yet ready to make public demands. The lockout which took place several days ago was put into effect, the manufacturers said, to prevent the unions from dictating who should be employed in garment factories.

SECOND PARLEY MAY BE FINAL

El Paso, May 3.—Possibility that there might not be another conference here over American troop dispositions in Mexico, and that the matter might now revert to the diplomatic channels between Washington and Mexico City, was the chief subject of speculation today. Shortly after midnight, when he had just finished a twelve hour discussion with General Alvaro Obregon, General Hugh L. Scott refused to say if any sort of an agreement had been reached, or whether another conference would be held. Returning to his private car, he immersed himself in papers he brought with him from the meeting with the Mexican minister of war and later was closeted with General Fred-

CAVALRY TO PATROL BRADDOCK STRIKE ZONE

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 3.—Four cavalry detachments of the Pennsylvania National Guard were expected to arrive in Braddock today, following the fatal rioting there yesterday in which two persons were killed, four probably fatally wounded and a score, less seriously hurt. Troops left Harrisburg, Sunbury and Tyrone last night shortly after orders were issued by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh calling them to strike duty and these will be joined here by Troop H. of Pittsburgh. Two regiments of infantry, the Eighteenth of Pittsburgh, and Tenth with headquarters at Greensboro are also being held in readiness for immediate service. Brigadier General A. J. Logan, commander of the Second brigade, remained all night at his headquarters in a local hotel, working out details for the movement of troops. Later he moved his headquarters to the 18th regiment armory, where he will take direct charge of the situation at Braddock. This is the first time in four years that the Pennsylvania National Guard has been called out for strike duty. In 1912 troops were sent into the anthracite coal regions, but since that time the state constabulary has been able to preserve order. The entire force has been on duty at Kilkesbarre, owing to a strike of street car men for several months and could not be called away from that city. Quiet prevailed throughout the night in Braddock. Fearing another outbreak, citizens, sworn as deputy sheriffs, patrolled the streets, while more than 300 guards and deputies armed with riot guns guarded the Edgar Thomson Works of the Carnegie Steel Company, where yesterday's rioting occurred. Other arrests were expected in connection with the commitments issued by Samuel G. Jamison as a result of the riot. Several leaders, among whom were Fred Merick, a former Socialist newspaper editor, J. H. Hall and Anna Bell, were arrested last night and are being held on a charge of being an accessory before and after the fact to murder. Three others were taken into custody early today and were placed in jail. Hall was questioned, especially regarding a note which was alleged to have been found in his possession, and which read, "Five killed, 14 injured. Phone McNamara to meet M." The corner of the note was torn off and apparently the letter "e" was missing after the "M." Hall refused to tell who McNamara was. When the mobilization order was received at headquarters of the 18th Infantry late last night all the men in the building were put to work at telephones, while others were sent to order automobiles and other means of taking messages to the 720 members of the regiment. Col. C. L. Kearns called Postmaster George W. McNeil and requested that a force of mail carriers be put in service to take copies of the order to men who could not be reached by telephone. AGRICULTURAL BILL IS PASSED BY THE HOUSE Washington, May 3.—The agricultural bill carrying $24,500,000 and a rider providing a new cotton future law uniform federal grain grading law, and a federal warehouse system was passed by the house. It now goes to the senate.

FIVE AIRSHIPS RAID ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND

London, May 3.—Five hostile airships attacked the northeast coast of England and the south-east coast of Scotland last night. The official announcement on the raid says that the movements of the raiders appeared uncertain, adding: "A few bombs were dropped in Yorkshire, but there are no details yet regarding the casualties of damage."

CLEVELAND STREET CAR MEN TO VOTE ON STRIKE AT MASS MEETINGS

Cleveland, O., May 3.—With a difference of $400,000 in wages for two years between the carmen's demands and the offer of the Cleveland Railway Company officials, union leaders today were seeking halls for mass meetings of the men tonight, when a strike vote will be taken. Both sides made concessions at conferences held late yesterday under direction of Mayor Harry L. Davis, who is trying hard to avert a strike without endangering three-cent fare. Today the mayor said: "I wouldn't bet either way on the question, or whether there will be a strike. I know that the final word has been said as far as the city and the company is concerned. More concessions will endanger three-cent fare and the administration does not intend to permit that." The men originally demanded 40 cents an hour and a minimum day of eight hours. The company offered thirty cents for first year men and thirty-three cents for others at once and a further increase of a cent an hour to all May 1, 1917. The men now get 29 and 33 cents. At last night's conference the men reduced their demands to thirty-two and thirty-five cents an hour, with a minimum day of five hours, now and eight hours May 1, 1917, also asking twenty minutes' pay for taking cars to and out of the barns and time for making trips to barns for relief work. The company offered 31 and 34 cents now, with 32 and 35 cents May 1, 1917, and five hour minimum. Thousands of people go through Times WANT ADS every night. They read them with profit. day, but refused the demands. The company says its proposition means a wage increase of $532,000 in two years, while the men's demands total $935,000 in two years.

IN TWO-MILE RELAY AT PENN CARNIVAL

The Yale team won the two-mile relay race in the recent carnival at Philadelphia. It was not until the third relay, however, that the wearer of the "Y" succeeded in passing the Chicago and Michigan runners. This picture was taken just as Barker of Yale was making the spurt that put him in the lead early in the third quarter.

FUNNY OLD GAME? WE WILL SAY SO

Baseball continues to be the funny old game. Here is Ralph Sharman doing bench duty for the Memphis Southern league club. Last year he was the best hitter in the Ohio State and fans around the circuit believed he was ripe for big league plucking. Well he went up, being sold to the Giants. McGraw turned Sharman over to the Memphis team. He failed to hit in the first four games this team played and Sharman was assigned to the dark recesses of the bench. But wait a minute. The Memphis Chicks left Tuesday on their longest trip of the season, a 25 day jaunt and Sharman with two inexperienced pitchers were left at home. Yep, funny old game.

BIG GAME SATURDAY

The Portsmouth Ohio State leaguers and the steel plant will clash again Saturday in Millbrook park. These teams lined up against each other last Sunday and the leaguers won 3 to 1. The steel plant team will have out its regular team and expect to get revenge for last Sunday's defeat.

SUMMER BOXING IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, May 3.—Minneapolis boxing enthusiasts may have the opportunity to witness fight bouts throughout the coming summer, if an experiment of officials of the Minneapolis Boxing club proves successful. It is planned to stage a fight May 12 and if the turnout of fans warrants it, boxing matches will be held here the year round instead of only during the winter season, as at present.

ANNUAL PASS SENT TO THE PREACHERS

President William N. Gableman Tuesday mailed members of the local Ministerial Association their annual passes. The preachers are always looked after in the River City and they appreciate the courtesy of the local club. Many have developed into ardent fans.

NEALE IS REGULAR

Earl Neale has become a fixture in the outfield of the Reds. He is a good fielder and hitter and succeeds Kenneth Williams, who was sent back to Spokane.

PASS BOOKS DELIVERED

Officials of the local team Wednesday began delivering the annual season books. The club has had a list of book buyers for several years and renewals are made before the beginning of each season. The 325 books contain 70 passes and the 210 books 25 passes.

NO GAME IN CINCINNATI

The Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game booked for Redland Tuesday was postponed on account of wet grounds. The Pirates took a train for dear old Pittsburgh.

FENCE SPACE ALL SOLD

Signs, signs, signs. That is in Millbrook park. The management has sold every inch of available fence space in the park for signs and the Grimes-Peebles company put a force of men to work today putting the signs on the fence.

BURLEY CUBS AT WORK

Maysville, May 3.—Manager Jones had the league players out for practice yesterday and quite a few fans were present to see the boys work out. The team will do considerable practicing this week and Manager "Jimmy" hopes to get the boys in shape to win the opener tomorrow week from Portsmouth.

NEW PITCHER FOR REDS

The pitcher who may prove the man the Reds need is on the way to join this club. He is Elmer Knietzer, purchased from the Boston Braves at the waiver price. Knietzer is a right-hander, who will be 25 July 22. He pitched for Lawrence, Mass. in 1909 and that fall went to Brooklyn. The Dodgers beat the Reds to Knietzer that year. Clark Griffith was mighty anxious to land him, but missed connections.

Earned Fame And Ten Spot

Buck Kennedy, who stopped Kid Kiegan in less time than it takes to tell is a brother of "Grandma" Kennedy. The latter was at one time one of the best welterweights in this part of the country and has fought some of the best men in the arena game. Kennedy had no intention of fighting and he plunked down his big round dollar the same as the other spectators when he entered Distel hall Monday night. He not only got "the bean" back, but he was paid $10 for putting away Promoter Kiegan's son. Can you beat it? Wilson was to have gone on with Kiegan, but when he failed to show up Kennedy substituted for him and earned himself glory and a ten spot.

GOING TO MAYSVILLE? WELL, SIGN PETITION

President William N. Gableman and Fred N. Tynes are busy circulating a petition for signatures of fans, who wish to go to Maysville on Wednesday May 10 and witness the opening game between the Spencer men and the Barley Cubs. Their petition is being freely signed and probably 150 fans will make the trip. When 100 names are secured a special train will be secured to run to Maysville and the River City band will be taken along. Maysville came up strong last year when the "world's series" was played off here and in Maysville and the local fans are anxious to return the compliment. On opening day in Maysville that wonderful picture "The Birth of a Nation" will be shown in that city and a host of seats will be reserved in the Washington theatre for local fans if they come to view this screen spectacle. If you are a red blooded fan attach your signature to Messrs. Tynes and Gableman's petition. The rest will be easy.

What Is Doing Up In Charleston

Charleston, May 3.—The Senators spent two hours yesterday morning on the ball field but practice in the afternoon was suspended because of the rain. Jake Daubert is still on the injured list, his arm is in bad shape but the advice of doctors yesterday was that he loosen it up with light practice and take care of the valuable member. John O'Malley filled the shortfield position and showed up well in yesterday's workout. He and Mohrman are the smallest men on the squad. Only six days remain before the opening of the league season here.

IVORY KNOBS CHAMPIONS MASONIC BOWLING LEAGUE

Before a splendid audience, with the air surcharged with whoops and yells, witticisms and pathos, the Ivory Knobs won the championship of the Masonic Bowling League at the Play House last night over the Cement Specialists, despite the fact that the latter emerged victorious in the Tuesday night's stance. The fact that the Ivories led their opponents by 171 pins in the first series was too much of a handicap for the Cements, although they went wonderfully strong last night, finishing with a total of 2283, while the Ivories made but 2266.

The majority of the Cements last night was 77. However, the Ivories led by 474 on last Friday night, which gives them the match by 91 pins. One fact stands out prominently and that is the two teams split fifty-fifty so far as games were concerned, each winning three.

The Cements now claim that had the series been based on games instead of pins they would win the championship. But it is all over, and the Ivories are with a capital I.

In the opening series, it must be admitted by all disinterested spectators, the Ivory Knobs had the many of the Cement Specialists. Some of the supporters of the Cements refuse to admit this terrible charge, claiming the Ivories went far beyond their speed and were blessed with more luck than skill. Be that as it may, the Ivories secured the jump on their adversaries, and it is well for them that they did, for last night the Cements were out for revenge and had the contest some much longer it looks as though they would have acquired the same. They bowled beautifully and completely outclassed the champions last night. Some of the Ivories were that fast that they didn't know whether they were bowling or picking dew berries.

But it's all over now. The Ivories are the champions, full chested and all, and are wearing that satisfied look. Next in order will be the big feed—Oh, you milk-fed chicken. The scores:

Ivory Knobs—	150	181	150

THE UPWARD FLIGHT

Monday's resume of the iron and steel market told the new common story of continuous and increasing activity. Quite a number of new plants have been put in operation and others are under construction. Orders are coming in rapidly, even to the uncompleted ones, but such is the volume offered that every mill is busy and most of them have enough work on hand to carry them over this year and even far into next. Since the first of the year contracts have been made for the manufacture of 2,462,200 tons of rails, 1,043,800 tons being written in April alone, which is more than four and a half times greater than the contracts for the four months of last year, but enormous as this total is it would be greater were the mills capacitated to make earlier deliveries than can now be specified for, and were not constantly raising prices prohibitive in instances. Probably, much of the buoyancy in prices is owing to the fact that "war orders" are still heavy, it being current that foreign countries are negotiating for the placing of specifications for 300,000 tons of shell steel. Yet, big as such business would be, it is quite insignificant when set by the side of general and domestic orders. A most notable and further encouraging feature of the situation is that material demanded show ship building is being immensely quickened. During the month of April 30,000 tons to go into seven new vessels were called for and the estimate is that the new ship-building yards, soon to be in operation on the Delaware river, will call for 60,000 tons for construction purposes.

THROBBING THOUGHTS ON THRIFT

As this is a thrift year we may be pardoned for offering our mite to the wise sayings, this subject will inspire during 1916. The only thing that reconciles many people to the flight of time is pay day.

The first million is hard to get; after that everything is easy. Instead of buying two-for-a-quarter cigars, buy a box of twenty-five for $3.10. You have no idea how large a saving you will enjoy in a year.

Buy ten dollars' worth of things you do not really need in order to get twenty-cents' worth of "trading stamps."

If Mrs. Neighbor Smith buys a $200 "parlor suit" for a $25 flat, be sure that you buy one for $300 just to show that your husband earns more than hers.

Do not fail to buy the latest style dresses as soon as they are "out." You may wear them "around the house" after they become passe.

Every woman should have at least three pairs of white kid shoes—high, medium and low—whether she has a pair of black ones or a pair of rubbers or not.

After you have started a savings' bank account and made two or three deposits, be sure to withdraw but a dollar. Repeat this half a dozen times a year. By this system quite an item in interest will accrue.

As soon as you get your salary, buy some luxury you have covered—or it may be gone. Board or rent may be paid any time.

The U. S. per capita money in circulation is $176.76. If you have not that in your pocket, do not feel into your neighbor's to see if he has your share.

"Let tomorrow take care of itself," is a fine maxim—ask any one in the poor house.

"Sadie is so lovely a swell dresser. She don't have to pay no board to her old woman an' makes every other goll look like 'lirly cents.'"—From Wise Saws.

EVER COMING AND GOING

One frequently hears that it isn't as easy to make money as it used to be. By this is meant that the opportunity to acquire fortune is not as frequently presented as was once the case. Nothing could be farther from the actual fact. There is more money in the world than there ever was and the more there is of a thing the comparatively easier it becomes to accumulate it. Then opportunity is not a thing of yesterday. It is ever coming and going and is as much of the morrow as of today. If one thinks it has vanished look at the case of those three young men in New York, who didn't wait for opportunity to seek them out, but who with bold heart and open hands went out to find and welcome her. Two years ago they started on their hunt by organizing an exporting company with a thousand dollars capital. In their diligent search they picked her up in the shape of a modest "war order". That gave them a "toehold" and they didn't let go, but clung on and grasped for more. Now they are doing business at a rate that figures up to near fifty millions annually. Certainly, opportunity is ever broadening and realizing that the war can not continue indefinitely they are guarding against the wreck of collapse by branching out into the general commercial field and finding there too that opportunity ever waits for those who diligently and intelligently seek her and never turn away from her smiles.

It isn't because the pessimist is more numerous than the optimists that 99 percent of the communications that come to a newspaper are "a knock" against something. It is the law of exception, we complain of that which is unusual distressful and sing most of that which is agreeable, because the displeasing is not so common as the pleasing.

Of course, any old place can have Sunday, but where is there another that can have such weather as calmed and soothed all about the Peerless, last Sunday?

IT'S A LONG STEP—CAN WE MAKE IT OURSELVES?

Nothing is so bad it can not be worse. The French are making the motorcycle more deadly still. The French are using the machine as a perambulating battery, mounting a gun on it that will fire one thousand shots a minute. As the gun has a range of two miles and that the cycle can be driven fifty miles an hour its possibilities for slaughter are unreckonable.

Strike details are crowding the war news off the front page these days. Well, we have heard the insistence that that more strikes, more good times prevailing, but just the same we can't help feeling sort o' squeamish when there is little else to read about.

"Bed-Time Tales" ought to become the most valuable of all the special features of The Times. They are going to be both interesting and informing and "daddy" will furnish pleasure and profit to both by reading them each evening.

A superintendent of a Wisconsin school wants the board of education to install gun racks, whereon the children can stick their "shaw" when they come into classes. And yet there are more foolish innovations proposed for the schools than that.

The Bluefield Telegraph seissors and prints some severe diatribes against the primary system, but cautiously adds they are not necessarily its own opinion. Waiting to see which way the cat is going to jump eh?

Worked up by Irish orators a mass meeting of pro-Germans, at Indianapolis, Sunday was violent and indiscriminate in denunciatory resolutions of Wilson and Roosevelt. It must be novel to the latter to find himself coupled with such excellent company.

Aha, let 'em quake and tremble in their boots and their booties too, for that matter. Our noble and valiant prosecuting attorney announces he is going to have the grand jury look after the highway scorchers.

Drive out in the country, these days, and you can see hundreds of fruit trees in beautiful bloom. There would be even more in them if it were that they were all properly attended to, so as to guarantee sound, luscious fruit later on.

Mister DuPont, the Delaware powder king, who parts his name in the middle, is a candidate for president. No suspicion, however, seems to lurk about that he will blow anything up, rather is it opined his candidacy will be a complete fizzle.

It looks as though that fight before Verdun is a sort of tit for tat business. In the beginning the Germans were quite busy capturing so many meters of trenches and now the French are as industriously taking them back. We have no thought of posing as a military expert, but our guess is the victor is going to be the side that can hold out the longest.

You can never tell what is going to happen. The Cincinnati Reds stopped their slide down the toboggan long enough Monday, to whitewash the Pittsburghers.

More About The Alligator Eggs

For some minutes after Mrs. Gator she was climbing till she found her self at the front door of an owl's nest. "Now here's my chance," she thought. "I'll lie here till Wise Mr. Owl wakes up. Then I'll ask him about Mrs. Gator and her eggs." So she stretched herself (all brown as she was by now, of course) along the

"No use in my staying where I might be trampled on," she sensibly thought. "I'll run up my tree. There I can see as much as how and be safe too. Alligators don't climb trees—I am sure of that, even if I don't know anything about their eggs."

So up the tree she climbed; she settled herself comfortably and looked around—just in time to see Mrs. Gator leaving the pile and waddling clumsily off to the creek. "Now that's a funny thing for her to do!" exclaimed Miss Chameleon in disgust; "and just when I am nicely settled to watch her, too! I thought mothers always stayed by their eggs. How am I ever to learn about her if she goes off that way before I can watch her?"

But all Miss Chameleon's disappointment didn't bother Mrs. Gator. She waddled off to the creek and splashed with a satisfied air of having done her full duty. "As soon as she was out of sight," Miss Chameleon remembered her hunger. "To be sure I was going to get me some ants from that pile," she said, "and now I'll be afraid to go into the bottom of it, for there's no telling when that Mrs. Gator may come back. I fancy I'd better find me some ants on a tree. That next one there seems to have some on its trunk."

She climbed down from the tree she was on and up the other. Sure enough! There were ants aplenty to be found. Her long, worm-like tongue was kept busy darting in and out, and always it brought back a morsel for Miss Chameleon to swallow. So busy was she eating that she didn't realize how high up the tree

$1 each aroused the suspicion of a detective in the Tenderloin this week, and noticing that certain men and women of the underworld were among the patrons, he sought to purchase a few of the expensive sinners himself.

They were being sold, he learned, by Wing Hays, a Chinese sporting character, who is known as "Duke" because of his fondness for flashy clothes. The sleuth went to Hays's apartment when the Celestial was sound asleep.

He awakened him, but was not prepared for the shock that followed. Reaching under his pillow, the Chinaman threw a new kind of a "stink bomb" and flooded the room with a most stifling stench.

While the detective was trying to raise a window for fresh air, the chink leaped out of a third story window and was found with his right leg broken. Several of the doughnuts were taken to police headquarters and were found to contain packages of opium, so the mystery of the high price of doughnuts was immediately cleared up.

Robert Warwick, the handsome actor, conceived the idea last week that he would like to present some of G. Bernard Shaw's plays on the screen. He called the author to know his price for the exclusive rights. He received a reply that still has him wondering. It read: "My plays are known all over the world. They have life; they are life and they are played wherever the human tongue can frame words."

Mr. Warwick admitted after reading the reply, that nothing could be fairer than that.

EIGHT YEAR OLD BOY TELLS OFFICIALS THAT FATHER SHOT AND KILLED HIS MOTHER AFTER A QUARREL

'FATHER WAS ANGRY BECAUSE SHE DID NOT GET UP EARLY,' ACCORDING TO LAD

Before Judge Beatty, probate court, this morning, in the presence of Sheriff E. W. Smith and Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait, George Jordan, aged 8, son of Roy Jordan, who was arrested Tuesday afternoon by the officials in connection with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Pamela Jordan, aged 41, confessed to the judge that his father had deliberately shot his mother while she was resting on a bed.

To think that the little, innocent child, barely old enough to talk plainly would have to witness the cold blooded murder of his mother, then furnish the authorities with the information that would fasten the crime upon his father, deeply moved all who heard the confession. "I tell you, gentlemen," said Judge Beatty, "it is terrible to think about it. There that little innocent child had to witness the horrible murder of his mother then come in here and tell us all about it. It is one of the most pathetic cases I have ever had in my court."

Heard Parents Quarreling

The boy's story was short. He said he awakened early Tuesday morning and heard his father and mother quarreling in the kitchen. The boy said his father seemed to be very angry because his mother had not gotten up earlier to prepare his breakfast. The meal was eaten and the father left the room. The mother, according to the boy, told him that she was not feeling very well and walked into the bedroom, and laid down upon the bed.

Shortly afterward, the father came in and when he found his wife on the bed, the boy claims, he swore terribly and seized a shot gun and killed her.

The boy said his father covered his face with his hands and cried, and said he wished he had never done it.

The officials are of the opinion that George has told the truth about the atrocious crime.

Older Boy Tells Different Story

James, the thirteen year old boy was brought before the officials Wednesday and asked about the crime. He told the same story as he related Tuesday. The judge took him by the hand and asked him if his father told them how his mother was killed. The boy said that he did not. "Don't you think this strange?" questioned the judge. "Don't you believe your father should have told you how she was killed?" After a few moments of careful thought, James said: "Yes I thought it was strange."

The body of the woman was lying on the floor parallel and a few feet away from the bed according to the testimony of the father and two sons. The face was near the head of the bed and her brains were scattered about the floor in great pools of clotted blood. But on the edge of the bed near the foot was a large spot of fresh blood which had thoroughly soaked the mattress.

If the boy's confession is true, the wife's head must have been lying on this spot when the gun was fired at her left eye.

The contents of the gun carried fully one-fourth of the unfortunate woman's head away. As Dr. Daehler graphically described it: It seemed as if the contents of the gun exploded when it struck the face for portions of brain tissue, pieces of scalp and splinters of clotted blood covered the walls and ceilings around the bed.

The county authorities had not filed any charges against Roy Jordan, the father at 9:30 o'clock.

WHERE THE CORPSE WAS FOUND

The home of the Jordans is a little three room rough-board structure just recently built upon the flat side of a reeding hill, which overlooks the low rolling plateau just east of Lucasville, which is known as the "Flat Woods." A panorama for several miles around can plainly be seen from the house. Two adjoining rooms of the home face the south, with the east room opening abruptly into a large kitchen.

In the east room, near a bed standing in the southwest corner, the ghastly corpse of Mrs. Pamela Jordan was found, it is claimed by the husband and three sons. Apparently she had been a comely woman, medium height, dark brown hair and was dressed in a blue calico frock.

Before anyone arrived, the husband says, he picked up his wife's

"PA LOOKED AND THEN CALLED THE BOYS"

"He came up and looked and then went up to the gap and called Roy and Jim. They were up on the hill with the mules cutting some poles. Before pap left he told me to run over to Smith's and tell 'em that ma was dead and I done it."

The little chap told the same story several times and finally maintained that his mother fell against the bed and killed herself.

questioned him sharply about the circumstances of his mother's death. He rigidly adhered to his story but was forced into a damaging statement, the officials believe, when Mr. Hartman suggested that someone had killed his mother with an axe then went down to the barn. George said: "Oh, no. It didn't happen that way." Then refused to answer any other questions.

He told the sheriff a different story than the first accounts given. He claimed that he was out to a small toilet "for an hour or more" after breakfast but could see his pap at the barn all the time. The officers walked over to the small house and were unable to see but just a portion of the barn roof from there, as the view of the small valley in which the structure was located was obscured by a sloping hill.

When asked if he did not love his mother, he sullenly said that he did; "but I like 'em both just as well."

Roy Jordan, aged 17, is a tall ungainly youth who seemed to be brooding over something. While sitting in the kitchen near the store with his head resting upon his arm he told his story. "I was up back on the hill. That is me and Jim cutting poles. We had the mules up there with us. And the first I knowed of it pap came over to the gap and hollered that ma was dead. We comes down and goes to the house and pap said that ma fell on the foot of the bed and killed herself."

"We reached down and picked her body up and put it on the bed. Ma has always been sick and she was goin' in to lay down when she fell against the bed," said Roy.

"MY MA IS DEAD; SHE FELL"

Fred, the little three year old, tow headed baby of the family, stood in the corner of the kitchen with his hands over his face sobbing. Near him was a small red enameled chair which he afterwards carried around with him. "My ma is dead; she fell" was the only information he would give the officials.

Mrs. Verna Skaggs, wife of William Skaggs, who lives on a farm adjoining the Jordan place, was out working in the garden at the time George called his father. She said she heard some shouting and cries at the Jordan home shortly after she went into the garden but did not think much about it until later when the little boy came out on the bank and called.

Believing that something was wrong, she concluded to go over and arrived when Mrs. Elizabeth Smith and Blaine Smith were entering. She said the husband told them that his wife had fallen against the bed and killed herself.

They entered the room and were confronted with the blood smeared remains of Mrs. Jordan laying on a mattress. The floor was covered with blood and small portions of brains.

They entered the room and adjoining and showed us a pile of shirts and aprons which concealed pieces of the brain and blood clots," said Mrs. Skaggs, "and he said that he had picked them up and carried them there."
